

22. A strength of monetary policy is that it

- (a) can have an impact on the exchange rate.
- (b) can be targeted to specific sectors of the economy.
- (c) is more effective in a recession than fiscal policy.
- (d) is the only policy that can control inflation.